SPRING FLOWERS and SPRING TRELLIS

SPRING FLOWERS was designed by Alison Gee in the Sanderson studio. Alison has worked for Sanderson both as an in-house designer and as a freelance designer for 20 years and her experience is evident in the variety of styles in which she works. However, her greatest expertise lies in her painting of flowers and many of her designs have become Sanderson 'classics' in past years.

MAPLE

MAPLE was designed by Fiona Howard who also designed Sanderson's hugely successful DANDELION CLOCKS. Fiona has worked with international clients in the furnishing industry for the past 25 years. Craftsmanship and traditional tools are at the heart of Fiona's work. Her signature prints are based on hand-cut lino-prints created in her Regency studio overlooking the sea in Brighton.

JUBILEE SQUARE

JUBILEE SQUARE was originally created in the 1950's by Wendy Bray who worked as a fabric designer in the 50s and 70s. She prefers the light-hearted touch and her playful conversation pieces. JUBILEE SQUARE uses images of her long-time family home and her dolls house. Its heritage is immediately recognisable with its simple blocks of colour and line detail.

FIFI

An original 50s Sanderson wallpaper, FIFI was discovered in 2010 in a customer's loft where it had been hidden away for the last 50 years. The design depicts the typical hourglass silhouette described as 'The New Look', a trend pioneered in 1947 by one of the most iconic fashion designers, Christian Dior.

FANTASY GARDEN and SEAFORD STRIPE

FANTASY GARDEN was designed by Sanderson designer, Helen Sydney who has previously designed for several renowned English fabric brands. Initially trained to design in the traditional 19th century document style, she also loves painterly and spontaneous techniques which she has used here in a contemporary interpretation of a tree of life which is printed on slub cotton. The Swedish influence of the design is reflected in the complementary FANTASY GARDEN wallpaper. A contemporary stripe wallpaper SEAFORD STRIPE complements the designs.

MORNING VIEW, APPLES & PEARS and REFLECTIONS

MORNING VIEW was painted by Sanderson designer, Claire Hart who trained at the Royal college of Art and who approaches her designs with an artist's eye. She loves using colour and often, as in this design, uses oil paints to create subtle effects of light and shade.

Elegant Living

RANEE EMBROIDERY, ASAMI and ASAMI STRIPE

RANEE and ASAMI are both classically elegant designs embroidered using very different techniques. RANEE uses an effect that imitates the chain stitch used on traditional Indian cloths and in ASAMI, the yarns used to embroider the blossom motifs have been cut to create delicate pompoms. Complementing these designs is ASAMI STRIPE, woven in a smart satin quantity.
